Dear Sacred Heart Parishioners:

As we come to the end of the Easter season we celebrate with the Church the great Feast of Pentecost. It is by God’s grace that we have been reborn in the Spirit and are alive in the new life of the Risen Christ. From this grace and new life we are sent out into the world to live in the Spirit and proclaim Christ to the world in our words and deeds. On this great feast of the Holy Spirit we pray for the grace, strength and courage to as we are called and challenged to do!

Come Holy Spirit, fill the hearts of your faithful and kindle in them the fire of your love. Send forth your Spirit and they shall be created. And You shall renew the face of the earth. O, God, who by the light of the Holy Spirit, did instruct the hearts of the faithful, grant that by the same Holy Spirit we may be truly wise and ever enjoy His consolations, Through Christ Our Lord, Amen.

In the Spirit,
Fr. Chris Hartshorn

A major component of emotional health is honesty.
A found this article to be quite “honest”

The Truth Is The Truth, Period.
By Michael Brown

The Truth is a funny thing: It’s true no matter what you think of it.
Do you beseech God to illumine the deepest parts of you? Do you ask Jesus to remove the "scales" from your eyes? Do you plead for the truth about many confusions and difficulties and struggles in life? And we should remember the truth cannot be altered. The truth is always the truth. We can fool ourselves. We can try to fool others. We can hide things, deny things, turn a "blind" eye. But the truth is the truth and comes with the Holy Spirit. When something is hidden is our lives, it is rooted. It’s a weed. Did you ever contend with those kinds of weeds that spread underground -- spring from "feeders"? You pluck a weed out from the surface, and almost immediately, they return? They do so because they're connected; we haven’t rooted out the feeders. Let’s say you’re impatient. You work at your impatience but can’t seem to solve it. No matter how hard or often you try! That could be because your impatience is coming from a "feeder" root of anxiety -- connected to a weed you thought was separate. Or, you may have an issue of anger. You can’t seem to root that out. You're still mad even though you don't want to be disturbed. Perhaps it’s because the emotion is spawned by a feeder that connects to fear. The fear is feeding the anger. when we seek the total truth we suddenly find a long root in our hands that is connected to a bunch of other seemingly disconnected weeds. Dig deep enough and a bunch come out. We can tell "white" lies. We can smile when we really don’t feel like it. We can lie to ourselves.

But, eventually, the truth surfaces. The truth is the truth and in time it always reveals itself. By the fruits do we know what is real and what is not.
How truthful are you? Do you strive to be honest, unbiased, and objective? Or are you draining yourself by propping up a wrong view? How much energy it takes to keep a falsity alive!

The truth is seen by its fruits. It’s important to think honestly. For lies bind us. When we make excuses, when we are in denial, when pride is our prism, when we find it expeditious to misdirect, omit a fact, or exaggerate, we are lying. It is the truth and nothing short of it that sets us free. There is no such thing as a "white" lie.

Often, no matter how hard we try -- no matter how many times we call up to the Lord for an answer -- we must wait for events to unfold. It is revealed in the words and actions of others and the events of life. Be patient and watch things and people reveal themselves. Don’t bother arguing with falsity.

There may be a testing time, a period of learning -- when we can’t get an answer, when the truth just is not and will not make itself plain. You may be disliked much for preaching the Gospel. It is holiness to carry the Cross of Truth. But when finally a lesson is learned, the trial ends. We learn something through the push and pulls of life.

In time -- if we pray -- the scales finally fall. This is a grace. "And immediately there fell from his eyes something like scales, and he regained his sight, and he got up and was baptized," we recall about Paul in Acts 9.

Spirit of truth, spirit of truth. Come Spirit of truth." This is a prayer. Being honest we are called to be, for without truth we can’t connect to the Truth of God in eternity.
